The Prologue: or, Introduction;
Is on the Conjunction of Saturn and Jupiter in
Aries, in 1762.

MOTION doth all, doth ev'ry thing bestow,
'Tis God's chief Agent there, but all below:
Motion like Weight, doth still fresh Matters press,
Till Force from thence moves the whole Universe.
By this from far, Heav'n's two Commanders come,
Between the Frigid and the Torrid Zone.
Two diff'rent Bodies the whole Globe surveys,
Who for new Products intermix their Rays.
Though silently they move, they'll speak aloud,
They're plain'y seen, but hardly understood.
Tokens of Fury lodg'd in either Star,
Crowded with Signs of Cruelty and War:
By oft Returns wantonly mix their Beams;
Canst thou (my Muse) tell what this Fury means?
Methinks I hear 'em say (now jointly one)
To shed some Plagues on the low'd Earth w're come;
Arm'd with a Force fit for the impending Nox,
Which some condemn, and others meanly know.
Our Force from Heaven's great Hand, the thing ordain'd,
By Moses fairly told, but not explain'd:
'Twas God-like done, he neatly poiz'd it thus,
He Master of the Stars, this lodg'd in us:
And this we'll shew, we'll summon ev'ry Sphere,
Till round the Globe we'll make each Mortal hear.
Go Stilbon, go, from us salute the Stars,
Bid them prepare for universal Wars.
Let Hercules appear with Club and Coat,
And bring Auriga with his Cart and Goat.
Let rough Bootes in the Northern Spheres,
Master his Force, and bring his Herd of Bears:
Acquaint the Twins with what from us you've heard,
And bid Orion come, or send his Sword.
Bid Argus bring his Fleet, his Ship of Force,
Chiron and Sagittarius lend their Horse:
And when our Force is met, the Earth below,
Shall it's own Fate in Time's due order know.
From Pole to Pole we'll visit ev'ry Shore,
The Cross, the Crescent. all shall feel our Pow'r.
The Bearded and the Beardless, none can shun't,
They that believe a God, and they that don't.

God's Judgments upon Popish Persecutors, discovered in some eminent Examples. From my last where the Printer left off.

III. THE same Day that Bishop Ridley and Latimer were burnt at Oxford, the old Duke of Norfolk came to Dine with Gardiner, who deferred Dinner 'til Four o'Clock, Afternoon, but when one of his Servants came posting to tell him that Fire was put to those Servants of God, he came rejoicing to the Duke and said, Now let us go to Dinner; the Table was set, and the Bishop began to eat merrily a few bits, but was on a sudden struck Sick; being carried from the Table to Bed, he continued in intolerable Torment, and could void nothing either by Stool or Urine. His Tongue was black and swollen so big that his Mouth could not contain it, and his Body violently inflamed; in this sad Condition he lay fifteen Days, and then ended his Life. In his Sicknes Dr Day, Bishop of Chichester, coming to see him, began to speak about the merciful Promises of God, and Free Justification by the Blood of Christ, who answered, What my Lord, Will you open that Gap now? then farewell altogether; Open this Window to the People, and farewell altogether. And being put in mind of St Peter's denying his Master, and that He ought not to despair; he answered, I have denied Christ with Peter, but I never repented with Peter.

IV. Bloody Bonner though he died in his Bed, yet lay under the Judgment of Impenitency, and as he had been a Persecutor of the Light, and a Child of Darkness, so in Darkness and at Midnight his Carcase was tumbled into the Earth, and as a Murderer was laid among Thieves and Murderers; a Place by God's just Judgment fitly appointed for him.

V. Arundel, Archbishop of Canterbury, who silenced many Protestant Ministers, had his own Tongue swelled so big in his Mouth, that he could neither speak, eat, or drink for several Days, and so died of Hunger, who had starved so many Christian Souls, and burned many of their Bodies to Ashes.

With Hands lift up, Libera nos Domine.

January hath XXXI Days.

The Providence of God display'd in the Situation of the Sun.

See, how th' indulgent Father of the Day,
At such due Distance does his Beams display;
That he his Heat may give to Sea and Land,
In just Degrees, as all their Wants demand.
But had he in th' unmeasurable Space,
Of Æther, chosen a remoter Place;

February hath XXVIII Days.

For Instance, pleas'd with that superior Seat,
Where Saturn, or where Jove their Course repeat:
Or had he happen'd farther yet to lye,
In the more distant Quarters of the Sky;
How sad, how wild, how exquisite a Scene,
Of Desolation had our Earth then been?

A wastful, cold, untrodden Wilderness,
The gloomy Haunts of Horror and Distress :
Instead of Woods, which crown the Mountain's Head,
And the gay Honours of the verdant Mead ;
Instead of Golden Fruits the Garden's Pride,
By genial Showers, and solar Heat supply'd ;

April hath XXX Days

*Icelandian Cold, and Hyperborean Snows,
Eternal Frost, with Ice that never flows ;
Unufferable Winter had defat'd*

Earth's blooming Charms, and made a barren Wasse.

No mild indulgent Gales would gently bear,

On their soft Wings, sweet Vapours thro' the Air.

June hath XXX Days.

Would thro' this bleak terrestrial Defart blow,
Glaze it with Ice, or whelm it o're with Snow,
Or had the Sun, by like unhappy Fate,
Elected to the Earth a nearer Seat,
His Beams had cleft the Hills, the Vally's dry'd,
Exhal'd the Lake, and drain'd the briny Tide.

July hath XXXI Days,

A Heat, superior far to that which broils
Borneo, or Sumatra, Indian Isles ;
 Than that which ripens Guinea's Golden Ore,
 Or Burns the Lybian Hind, or tans the Moor.
 Had laid all Nature waste, and turn'd the Land
 To Hills of Cynders, and to Vales of Sand.

Observations.

The Aspects of this Month appear with an angry Countenance Mighty Transformations of a violent Nature are now acted in many Parts of the World; this is the second Time the two grand Malignant Stars have opposed each other from the two Equinoctial and Cardinal Signs Aries and Libra this Year; great and tremendous will be the Effects of these dire Configurations.

The 22d of this Month, 1751 the hopeful posthumous Pr. Caroline Matilda was born, last Daughter of her Royal Highness Prin. Dowager of Wales.

August hath XXXI Days.

No Beasts could then have rang'd the leafless Wood,
 Nor finny Nations cut the boiling Flood.
 Birds had not beat the airy Road, the Swains,
 No Flocks had tended on the russet Plains.
 Thus had the Sun's bright Orb been more remote,
 The Cold had kill'd ; & if more near, the Drought.

Next see Lucretian Sages, see the Sun,
His Course Diurnal and his Annual run:
How in his glorious Race he moves along,
Gay as a Bridegroom, as a Gyant strong:
How his unvary'd Labyur he repeats,
Returns at Morning, and at Eve retreats;

October hath XXXI Days.

And by the Distribution of his Light,
 Now gives to Man the Day, and now the Night :
 Night, when the drowsy Swain & Traveller cease,
 Their daily Toil, and sooth their Limbs with ease;
 When all the weary Sons of Woe restrain
 Their yielding Cares with Slumber's silken Chain }
 Solace sad Grief, and lull reluctant Pain.

Observations.

The Felicity of some People proceeds often from Misfortunes of others, and contra, and this Truth was never more apparent than at present, when the melancholy Circumstances of one Nation is accounted the best News that could happen to the other.

When is it that God executes his Judgments upon the Wicked? Why truly when they are high in Power and Might, and most secure in their own Conceit; for he resisteth the Proud, and setteth himself in Battle array against them. The cruel Pride & Strength of our Enemies are humbl.

November hath XXX Days.

And while the Sun ne'er covetous of Rest,
Flies with such rapid Speed from East to West,
In Tracks Oblique he thro' the Zodiac rolls,
Between the Northern and the Southern Poles;
From which revolving Progress thro' the Skies,
The needful Seasons of the Year, arise.

December hath XXXI Days.

And as he now advances, now retreats,
Whence Winter Colds proceed, & Summer Heats.
He qualifies and cheers the Air by turns.
Which Winter freezes, and which Summer burns.
Thus his kind Rays, the two extreame reduce,
And keeps a Temper fit for Nature's Use.

Of Genethliacal Astrology.

ASTROLOGIA altissima scientiarum est, tum quia de cælestibus, tum quia de futuris, quorum scientia non solum divina est; sed etiam utilissima. Cardan. Seg. 1. Aph. 20. Astrology is the most Transcendant of all Sciences, both because it treateth of things celestial, and also of future: The Knowledge whereof is not only divine, but most profitable and useful. The Reason that Astrology is so much neglected and brought into Contempt of late Years, is, I presume, partly owing to the many Abuses and Cheats practised under the Name of that divine Art, and partly for want of a due Enquiry made into it, by Men properly qualified for so excellent and worthy a Study. For as the learned Cardan saith, An Astrologer must be born, and not made. By Astrology I would not be understood to mean that bombast Stuff, or the silly Dreams of the Arabian Professors (which is too frequent in all our common Books of this Art); nor the vain ostentatious Pretences of professed Fortune-tellers, whose Livelihood depends upon deceiving the ignorant Vulgar. For pure Astrology is a Branch of natural and celestial Philosophy, and ought to be studied and practised as such. I have made a very diligent Search into this Art for the Discovery of Truth, and experimentally examined all the various Methods of Direction, of the most approved Writers thereof, but could not find any one to answer my Expectation in regard to Truth; but by indefatigable Labour, and a sedulous Observation of many Years Practice, have, I presume, discovered a more rational Method, and consentaneous to Truth, than any hitherto published; so that I have with infinite Pleasure often found that there is an inseparable Connection between the Configuration of the Planets and the Events.—That it is worthy of all this Care and Diligence, the very Enemies of Astrology readily confess. Thus Heminga, Si in omnibus Nativitatibus, vel etiam plerisque hoc pacto convenirent eventus cum directionibus, solam Astrologiam magnificerem, eamque præ cæteris Scientiis unice amplecteror & tamquam divinam colerem. I hope I shall not be censured as guilty of Vanity or Presumption, if I affirm, that in the long Progress of my Study and Observations, I have discovered many Errors, and made some Improvements: A Specimen of which I gave in my last Year's Almanack, on a Nativity of undoubted Veracity, and I could produce several hundreds Experiments of the like Nature and Agreement, all which are Testimonies to confirm the Truth of this Art, even to a Demonstration.—My design in this, and some future Numbers is, to examine some Nativities published by the most eminent Professors of this Art, as Cardan, Junctine, Gauricus, Origanus, Argol, Morinus, Gadbury, Coley, Partridge, &c. wherein the Reader may apparently see (not only) the great Deficiency and Imperfection of the common Astrology, but also find a more rational and verified Method of Directions in Nativities introduced.

This is the Nativity of the famous Mr John Gadbury, Author of the Doctrine of Nativities; A Collection of Genitures, and several other Treatises of Astrology: He printed his own Nativity three or four times, as appears by his Works, but all of them to no Purpose, or appearance of Truth, for by his Method and way of directing, there was no proper Direction in the Operation at the Time of his Death, which proves the Argolian way of Direction (which this Author followed) is not true, or fit to be depended on; after his Decease, his Friend Mr Gadson rectified it, and printed in his Astrologia Refor. to prove the Antient Astrology by, and brought the Asc. ad ☐ of ♀ in Zod. to signify his Death, and the M. C. ad Cusp of the 12th for his Imprisonment at 62 Years of Age, and lets the M. C. pass the ☊ of ♀ without any Effects; most insipid Stuff, more fit to be laughed at than credited by any one of Sense. In the Year 1697, that critical Examiner of Genitures Mr P. in his Defectio Geniturarum, printed this Nativity again Page 326, with the Rectification, and Directions in the Placidian Way, for the most material Accidents of his Life and Death; though this Author's Performance is more to the Purpose, and far beyond what any before him had done, yet he was far wide of that Perfection in Art he pretended, as I shall make appear: For in the Terminus Vitæ, he was greatly mistaken, neither will his own Rules agree therewith; for to my Knowledge (having it by his own Hand-writing), that he looked upon the Year 1702 to be fatal to this Gentleman, and that from the Direction of ☊ ad Zod. Par. ☉. The ☊ ad ☊ ☊ cum Lat. and ☊ ad Rapt. Par. of ♀, but he lived to the Year 1704, March 24, where our Author hath but one Direction to trust to; and that could not kill by his own Rules, for the Par. of ♀ falls within a Degree of it, which he says always preserves Life; from whence it appears that there cannot be any proper Direction produced, or assigned, to be in Operation at (or to denote) the Time of this Native's Death, by this so much admired Placidian Way of Direction. Lastly, I shall produce in a few Words what I have to offer on this Subject, not having room to demonstrate the Directions at large, as I at first intended: As to the Rectification, I make it but 4 Min. sooner than the preceding Author; and from a Scheme set to that Time, I have proper and suitable Directions for the most material Accident in his Life, which I have not room to insert, but those for his Death are as follows,

The D ad Par. Decl. δ. D ad $\square$ of the $\odot$. D ad $\square$ of — h. $\odot$ ad 8 h in mundo. $\odot$ ad Rapt. Par. h.	}	These are the Directions that come up (by my Method) at the Time of this Native's Death, which was March 24, 1704, aged 77 Years, 2 Months, and 23 Days. So I leave it to the Approbation of the Ingenious.

Judicium Astrologicum, pro Anno 1762,

Being an Astrological Judgment for the Year 1762.

I. Of the Winter Quarter,

WHICH begins on Monday the 21st Day of December 1761, at 7 Minutes past One in the Afternoon, when 9 Degrees of Taurus ascends, and 16 Degrees of Capricorn culminates; the Sun is located in the 9th House, in Square to Saturn and Jupiter in the 12th, and applying to the same Aspect of Mars in the 6th, who is in Opposition to Saturn, Venus and Mercury, are in Conjunction in the 7th House in Trine with Saturn, and applying to a Sextile of Mars; the Moon in the 6th, separating from a Sextile of the Sun and applying to a Trine of Jupiter; thus are the Planets posited and configured at this Hyemal Ingress. The Male Configurations of Saturn, Mars and the Sun, are of bad Import to the superior Part of Mankind, as Emperors, Kings, Princes, and Governors; they will meet with great Trouble and Anxiety of Mind, which proceeds from the distressed State

PARTRIDGE, 1762.

State and Confusion that their own Kingdoms are in, or likely to fall into; their Councils both in private and publick Affairs will be infested with Heats and Animosities, Discord, and great Oppositions; their private Schemes and Designs frustrated, and their common Laws violated; Statesmen and Officers turned out and discarded, and many new ones put in, but not regarded; their principal Aim is Pride and self Interest; many Plots and Stratagems are laid for the Destruction of each other; Prison, Banishment and Death will be the Portion of many; Tumults, Insurrections, and Rebellion are the common Actions of the inferior People. Here is also menaced great Sickness, proceeding from a Putrifaction of the Blood, and will first appear in uncommon Colds, Stoppage of the Stomach, Agues, Intermitting Fevers, Consumptions, Jaundice, Sciatica, Stone in the Reins and Bladder, &c. Some of the Places passive to these Effects are, viz. Germany, Sweden, Poland, Austria, Alsatia, Livonia, Saxonia, Albania, Burgundia, Silesia, Vienna, Norway, &c.

*Is Peace intended, or is't flourish'd Flights
Some self end Projects, under pretended Rights?
Whilst some a Peace expect, the angry Stars
Oppose all Peace, and prompt Mankind to Wars.*

PART RIDGE, 1762.

This Speculum exhibits the Longitude, Latitude, Declinations, and Aspects of all the Planets at one View; and also their Positions with regard to the Angles; herein we may observe; that the ☉ is ♄ with ♀ and ☿ in the 8th House, applying to the ♄ of ♀ and ♀, who are conjoined in the 9th; the ♃ in the 6th in ☐ to ♄ in the 3d, is applying to a * of ♀ and ♀; thus are the Planets posited at this Ingress, which is also a proper Radix to deduce a Judgment of the grand ♄ of ♀ and ♀ in Aries, which happens nearer this Ingress than to any Luration; therefore it may not be improper to consider of it in this Place: First, it may be observed, that the ♄'s of ♀ and ♀ do stimulate the most powerful Influence of any other of the Planets; and this present ♄ will give sufficient Demonstration of it's Power and Force before many Years are expired, and this as well in the Fate of Princes and great Men, as in Kingdoms and Countries, &c. Nay, I might have said, in the Fate of Men of all Degrees and Capacities: For whosoever hath the ♄ on his M. C. Asc. ☉ or ♃, or in ☐ or ☿ to them, will be sufferers most certainly under bad Directions; and all those that have the ♄ in *, but chiefly in Δ to those Points, will find themselves advanced and preferred in all Capacities whatsoever; and this I recommend to all Students in the Genethliacal Part of Astrology to observe, and see if what I say doth not prove true in the Matter; I could produce several remarkable Instances of this kind, if I had Room.

In order to determine the Nature of the Effects of this Celestial Congress, we must properly consider the Motions of the Planets at, and about the Time thereof, which done, we shall find the Planet Mars has a very great and considerable Share of Influence therein (as is easy to shew had I Room to do it); he will by his fiery Atoms affect and influence all the other Planets; he stirs up Passions, Divisions, and Wars, amongst Men; he produceth strange Contentions, rash and unadvised Actions of dangerous Consequences, which I fear Mankind will find to their Cost. As to the Meaning of it, this is my Opinion; That for the first five or six Years from the Conjunction, there will be Wars and Mischiefs chiefs that will much impoverish the Earth by their continuance, but managed by Craft and Trick; but after 10 or 12 Years there will be a War with a Witness, such a one that shall shake the Powers of the Earth to pieces, and begin such a Reformation as hath been wanted and expected a long time; then they will fight in earnest, the strong Arm shall hew down the Mighty, and the Invincible shall be conquered. For observe, this is the seventh Reformation of the fiery Trigon since the Creation; and hath, in the Opinion of learned Men, a more secret Mystery of Sabbatism, and promiseth something of more singular Moment to the World. Trigonus $\cap$. Ω . $\dagger$. est Christianorum ejus Dominus Υ , saith Daspodius. And the famous Alstedius was of Opinion, that the Fire of this Conjunction will consume the Dregs and Refuse of Rome, and that some Time before the Year 1782. However, this Conjunction will effect, and shew it's Energy and Power on all Men and Things in the World, either for good or ill, but not all at the same Time; but it's Influence will wander from one Country and part of the World to another, 'till it compass the whole Globe.—It will influence the Affairs of Kings, Princes, &c. says Haly. It will shew it's Effects in holy Things, &c. says Ptolomy. It shews great Changes in the World, the Destruction of Sects and Kingdoms, the Rise of some Prophet, and the Ruin of divers Climates, with great alterations to the greatest things in the Universe. Barrenness and Scarcity of the Fruits of the Earth, with Wars and Commotions, says Johannes Escuidas and Messabalah. It shews the Establishment and Rise of new Monarchies and Governments, Sterility, and that there shall wise and excellent Men appear, says Argol and Camparella. That there shall some great Prophet appear, and that some Nation shall rise into great Fame and Repute, says Avenaris. Great Conjunctions in Cardinal Signs always produce great things, &c. says Morinus. A $\odot$ of ι and Υ shews Wars, says Leupoldus. It shews Mutations of Kings and Kingdoms, says Hispalenses. By such $\odot$'s the State of the World is foreknown, says Almanzor. Mortality, Famine, Wars, and Depopulations, says JunZine. That they stir up Wars and Diseases, says Ranzarins. Changes in Kingdoms,

Kingdoms, Wars, Plague, and Famine, says Huscharus. In a fiery Sign it shews much Drought, says Satterus. Great Mutations shall happen in the World, says Origanus. And to prove what is laid down by these Authors (and more if it were desired), I will recommend the Reader to Leoviti's Treatise of Conjunctions of Saturn and Jupiter, wherein they may be fully satisfied. For my Limits are almost full, so that I must return to the Ingress, and in a few Lines give a summary View of this Year's Transaction.—From the significant Positions of the Planets at the Vernal Ingress, and the many other concomitant Configurations in this solar Revolution, we may very rationally conclude that the Actions and Transactions of this Year, will be very considerable and astonishing, so that the whole Year may be called Annus Mirabilis. We seem to be arrived at that Age of the World mentioned by Mr J. Cyprian, with whose Words I shall conclude, they being so Consonant to my present Design and Purpose. — ‘The angry Heavens by fearful Visions, fore-dooming Comets, and strange Comminations of Planets, do prognosticate to the sinful World the Alterations of Christian Kingdoms, Fall of Princes, Overthrow of Commonwealths, Desolation of Countries, and Ruin of Cities, Towns, and Villages, Earthquakes, Floods, and mighty Tempests, whereby the whole World is annoyed. Also by the various Course of the Elements, all Nations under the Circuit of the Sun will be vexed with bloody Wars, Famine, Death, Scarcity of Corn, and many other strange and fearful Accidents, as well in Europe, as other parts of the World; all which come to pass for the manifold Sins and Corruption of Mankind, which nothing but the Majesty of God of his meer Mercy can prevent.’
